A martyr to her convictions, Louise Michel, offering freedom and return to the real France which, pe haps fortunately for Europe, differs so widely from the France created by her fervid imagination, chooses to remain in a penal colony and to inculcate her peculiar doctrines upon the rising generation of Numeans. On the whole, we opine that our vivacious neighbors may reasonably congratulat: themselves upon her selection of Numeans as a place of residence, and upon the riccumstance that their native country does not come up to her notion of what France ought to be in order that its moral condition should justify her in returning to its shores.

A Bride of Two Days a Widow.

(Donver (Col.) News.1 One of the most melancholy events the News has been called upon to chronicle in many months is the sudden death of Mr. W. A. Cissna, formerly of Chicago. What makes the event all the more melancholy is that he leaves a bride of two days to mourn his sudder and unexpected death. It was in Wednesday's issue that the News briefly mentioned the marriage of Mr. Cissna to Miss Eva Wright, of this city.

The event was celebrated at the residence of Mr. A. W. Hogle by the Rev. W. R. Alger, and many were the congratulations extended to the young couple for a long life and future happiness. The day following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cissna had taken rooms at Mrs. Manifee's, Lawrence street. After dinner, yesterday, while Mr. Cissna was reclining upon the lounge, his wife made the remark that she felt as though something terrible was going to happen. Her husband turned it off in a joking manner, and thought nothing more of it. Soon after he got up and went into an adjoining room to light a cigar. Before reaching the door, he fell upon the floor and expired in a few moments. The cause of the sudden death was heart disease.

Adventure With a Bear.

On Wednesday night last our newly elected Sheriff, John C. DeVotie, in com-pany with J. M. S. Eagan, had occasion to go over to Geneva on business. After going above timber line about 100 feet they had the pleasure of meeting a bear on the trail, and as both parties wanted to pass each other, they stopped for con-sultation. DeVotie and Eagan each hav-ing a small pistol and one bottle of invigorating cordial, they concluded to show fight and accordingly lay down and faced their opponent, holding on to their horses as they did so. Eagan held his pis-tol in one hand and the cordial in the other, and remarked to De Votie that he intended to hit the bear over the head and blind him, if possible, with the liquor, and then shoot him at his leisure. The bear must have dropped on their little game, as he concluded to divide the trail with them and passed by without any serious encounter. This occurred about 12 o'clock at night. Although it was pretty dark, they could see that his bearship was a big one, and are well satisfied at their fortunate escape. The bear's politics are unknown as the boys did not hink to inquire-and besides, as theeleetion was over he couldn't have voted any how, although, if all reports are true he had more right to vote in this county than had Mexican residents of Gilpin County. DeVotie says that if he had been sworn in he should have arrested Bruin as a highwayman, and brought him in anyway.

A Connectiont Man's Thrift. (New Haven Palladium.)

The story comes from Hartford of a penurious farmer, who has had three wives. It is stated that he ordered off his farm a sister of No. 1 because she ate too many eggs. No. 2 had been his servant girl, and refused to work longer at low wages. On the way to the depot he said: "Will you stay if I will marry you." Yes, the answered, and he is said to have chuckled over his cheap bargain, as she was a hard worker. No. 3, who was wooed when No. 2 died, was a widow and dress-maker, who owed considerable money. By a State law a hus-band is responsible for his wife's debts con. tracted before marriage, so to avoid paying these, our friend, as soon as soon as was engaged, kept the news quiet until he had bought up all the claims against his intended at 20 cents on the dollar.

A Church-Going Horse. [Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer.]

We have been told of many intelligent mules and horses. One case we remember of a mule going into a blacksmith's shop to have a nail pulled from his foot is only equaled by a story of a religious horse that we were told of yes-terday. He is owned by Mr. Alexander, of Oswichee, Ala, who rides him to church on preaching days, which is twice a month. On other Sundays he is turned out to graze, and it is on these days he is so religious. He goes down to church, stops at the tree where he is generally tied when there is preaching, and, with his head toward about an hour and a half. He then walks leisurely home. This is a fact, and will be vouched for by any of the people of Oswichee.

DR. FENTON, Cleveland, Ohio—Dear Sir: Five years ago, then in Brazil, South America, I there contracted a disease that nearly east me my life. I was seven morths in hampital—Spanish Benttlian and Buenos Ayres—but to no purpose. I then went to Cientinegos, Curba, and spent slaxy-four lays in the military-hoppital. The doctor tool me if I had any friends sland better make my way to them. The American consultant me to New York. Last apring it came on me again; asst in the night was out of the question. A friend in the night was out of the question. A friend in the st. Charles Hold, here (Detroit), advised fenton's Matchiess systep; I sent for six bottles. I have only take a four and am nericetly well. I must say it surprised me, and all that knew the condition I was in for five years. I freely recomment Fenton's Matchiess Syrup above any blood purisher in the catalogue of medicines.

The Manufacturing Interests of Cincinnati are larger and more varied than those of Pittsburg, Chicago, St. Louis, or any other Western city. A large portion of the population is necessarily made up of the intelligent artisan clusa, who are thrifty and well to do, and therefore a class whom merchants find a profit in addressing.

THE CINCINNATI

DAILY STAR

Offers special inducements to Advertisers desiring to reach this class of people. It publishes and circulates more papers in Cincinnati and immediate vicinity than any other journal issued in this city. It is taken and read by people at THEIR HOMES; and for all classes of goods, where the Advertiser desires to reach the family, is more valuable, even in proportion to circulation, than a paper that is a favorite only in the counting-room. Its news covers the affairs of every day life, dressed up in such a manner as to be of special interest to the ladies; and its advertisements are therefore brought more conspicuously before them than is the case with any other paper in this city. For these reasons, and many others which we might cite, the STAR is an anequaled medium for
